Why in the Baltic?
Throwing the Javelin
Some Real Government
Welcome to 800,000
By Arthur Brisbane
Copyright, 1920.

United States warships are sent to the Baltic. Why? Are we at war with Russia? Has Congress authorized anybody to declare war or take warlike measures? What are United States ships doing in the Baltic? Are they just parading up and down or laying the foundation for a fight with Russia that will call for more men to go abroad and be shot?

You are told that the Peace League would not necessarily mean war. But you notice merely talking about the Peace League puts the administration into a mood that comes so near war as to be interesting.

What have we to do with events on the shores of the Baltic? What concern is it of ours?

If you want more war, if you are anxious to buy for $100 more bonds that drop down around eighty, if you want another dose of profiteering, vote for the Peace League and you will have all those things.

Yesterday the New York Evening Post, owned in the office of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., came out formally "For the League of Nations and Cox." No wonder, one big war-made Morgan & Co. significantly rich. Did it make you significantly rich? You can guess what more war would do for Morgan. What would it do for you?

In the Olympic games Finns beat all comers and all records in hurling the javelin. You are interested to see that those men of the North have retained the muscles and skill used to primitive fighting. Beyond that you care little about javelin hurling, which is throwing a long light stick, sharp at one end.

There was a time when the fate of armies and nations might depend on the work such as that of the mighty Finn. The Partisans, from whose method of fighting we get our "Partisan shot," conquered their enemies because they knew better than others how to throw a spear from a moving horse.

Little we care now about the javelin—the Partisans, however, they loved the great Lucullus, or about the fact that Lucullus should be included among the world's greatest soldiers whenever Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon are named. He was, perhaps, abler of all, except Alexander.

This country is running the island of San Domingo for the benefit of the Dominican people. The theory is that the Dominican people do not know how to run themselves, and apparently they don't. The military governor sent there by the United States seems to have good ideas on government. He reports that the bonded debt of the San Domingo republic is being paid off rapidly. One loan made for the island will be paid off in 1921 instead of 1928 as planned. Another payment will be completed in 1922.

Money saved by economy in government has built good roads, public buildings, schools, hospitals, and there are schools for all the children. You would almost suggest that our military governor in San Domingo be brought here. He seems to be wasted on so small a place as San Domingo. However, as it happens, San Domingo is simply managing San Domingo. It is not trying to finance the whole of creation outside of San Domingo.

CHARLES PONZI TODAY GAVE THE AMERICAN THE FIRST INTIMATION OF WHAT HIS DEFENCE WILL BE WHEN HE GOES ON TRIAL.

He will claim that a large number of notes which appear as liabilities against him have been forged and counterfeited. He will claim that had it not been for these forged notes he could have paid every dollar and have weathered the various runs started on his business by charges of insolvency.

Ponzi today charged that he has been swindled of many thousands of dollars through the forged notes. Investigation by the authorities has in part at least confirmed Ponzi's claims of forgery and counterfeiting. Some of the notes turned in since the Ponzi investigation show that $80 notes have been raised to $500 and $100 notes to $1,000. The authorities today let it be known that Ponzi's losses by means of these forgeries amount to thousands of dollars.

Today, in the first statement issued by Ponzi from the East Cambridge jail through his counsel, Ponzi said: "I have been more worried about my poor wife and young children than anything else because of me. I still insist on the same my arrest. I do not want."

MCGRAW BRAWL ACTION HALTED

Actor Slavin Suffers Relapse; Postpone Placing Case Before Grand Jury

New York, Aug. 17.—Announcement by physicians of St. Luke's Hospital that John C. Slavin, actor, who was injured in the Lambie Club brawl had suffered a serious relapse, has caused the case to be postponed. Slavin was being held in place to place the matter before the grand jury for action.

The reason for the delay was said at the office of the District Attorney to be to prevent a miscarriage of justice by having the grand jury act on a question which may become more serious.

John J. McGraw, central figure of the brawl, was sought by representatives of the prohibition enforcement office, but the baseball manager sent the men who were to take him to the hospital. He was taken to the hospital of Chief Probation Officer Shervette, who was physically able to get around.

It was informed that J. C. Slavin, who was injured in the brawl, was being held in place to place the matter before the grand jury for action.

HATFIELD DIES 'WITH BOOTS ON'

Member of Famous Kentucky Feud Family Shot From Ambush; Alleged Slayer Held

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 17.—News reached here today from Ashland, Ky., that A. C. Hatfield, who was shot while sitting in front of his hotel in Maitown, W. Va., is dead of his wounds at Lexington, W. Va.

The bullet, fired from ambush, went through Hatfield's chest and carried away part of the jaw of Dr. Edward Simpkins, with whom Hatfield was talking.

"The assassination of Hatfield, who was a member of the noted Kentucky family of that name, which has long been famous in Kentucky and West Virginia, is apparently an outgrowth of the battle at Maitown, W. Va., May 13, when seven officers, three miners and the mayor of the town were killed as a result of trouble over coal."

Hatfield was a witness before the special grand jury which indicted fourteen men for taking part in the battle, shortly afterwards Hatfield received an anonymous letter warning him to prepare for death as he had but a few days to live.

The state police have arrested Fred Burgett, whom they charge with the shooting.

Thin People Need Phosphate Most in Hot Weather

Apt to Take on Good Healthy Flesh Even on Sweating Days if Pure Phosphate Is Taken with Meals.

Druggists dispense Bittor-Phosphate in a small bottle. While organic phosphate was administered, and both patients claim they had gained weight and strength in the past twelve years.

Such tend to have had Frederick S. Kelle, M. D., Editor-in-Chief of "The Medical World," an author of medical text books and member of the American Committee of America, Health League, Physicians' Legislative League, N. Y. to mention a few.

"If I had my way Bittor-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every household."

And Joseph D. Harrigan, former Vice-President of the Bittor-Phosphate Company, says: "Let those who are weak, thin, nervous, anemic or run down, take a natural, unadulterated substance such as Bittor-Phosphate and you will soon see some astonishing results in the increase of nerve energy, strength of body and mind and power of endurance."

The evidence of results in cases of this character is so overwhelming that it is almost impossible to list all the cases. It is shown that two patients gained in weight, one 35 pounds and the other 17, in a few months.

America's most famous policeman athlete

Holder of five world's records—winner of ten National Championships—that is the achievement that makes Lieutenant McGrath of the New York traffic squad an athlete of international reputation. Ever since 1908 he has been consistently defeating the best men in this country and abroad in his events, the 16-lb. hammer and 56-lb. weight.

*A talk with "Matt" McGrath—champion hammer-thrower and traffic lieutenant in
New York City*

McGrath family found to be among the 2,000,000 who are building health by correct bathing

CHAMPION hammer-thrower of all the world, —holder of four world's records with the 56-pound weight, —such a man is Lieutenant "Matt" McGrath, of New York, member of an Olympic team this year for the third time, the best known police officer in America.

For twelve consecutive years Lieutenant McGrath has won notable victories in amateur athletics. Even among champion athletes he stands out as a star.

"Sitting at a desk all day makes it hard to keep active and vigorous," said McGrath recently. "But I manage to store up enough energy to win my events by following the simple rules of health."

"It pays, for instance, to be very careful about bathing. Bathing, if done right, makes the skin active and vigorous. And unless the skin is healthy the rest of the body can't be in the best condition. The kind of soap you use makes a big difference, as I discovered when I began to bathe with Lifebuoy Health Soap."

"At home we all find we need Lifebuoy Soap. It gives half again as much lather as ordinary soaps—a fine, rich lather that tones up the skin and invigorates the whole body."

There are 2,000,000 other families in America who know the value of correct bathing. Like the McGraths, they have found that by stimulating the skin, Lifebuoy helps build up health for the whole body.

Doctors will tell you that much discomfort, much poor health, is caused by an inactive, "lazy" skin.

How a "lazy" skin makes trouble for the whole body

YOU know people who are forever complaining of the heat in the summer. You remember others who always sneeze in a draft—who catch cold easily.

These are the two surest signs of a "lazy" skin and of all the trouble that it brings. They mean that your skin is not doing its work—that it is not giving your body full protection against heat and cold.

Just as our muscles become flabby when we don't exercise them, so our skin often grows inactive and loses its vigor. The tiny muscles of the pores and glands relax and grow weak. The skin is no longer able to regulate the heat of the body.

As a result we not only suffer too much from the heat and catch cold too easily, but also, when our skin grows "lazy," the vitality of our whole body is lowered. We get "tired out" earlier in the day. In addition, our skin is more likely to break out in rashes and eruptions.

That is what is meant by a "lazy" skin. Doctors have found that it can easily be restored to vigor and health by a little care in bathing.

Keep your skin always active— glowing with health

To keep the skin active and glowing with health is easy for any average person. Already many people have found a simple, pleasant way to build up health through bathing.

Starting with a tub of warm or tepid water they bathe the whole body with the rich, generous lather of Lifebuoy Health Soap. Then comes a fresh, cold water sponge-off or shower, and a good vigorous rubdown.

Try a bath with Lifebuoy Soap yourself. You will be amazed at the difference —at the way it leaves you "tingling" all over. After a few weeks you will actually feel your skin growing more vigorous—more active. That means a clearer, fresher complexion, too—the radiant, outdoor look that everyone admires.

The odor tells you why

Notice, too, the clean, wholesome odor of the Health Soap. It contains a special ingredient—a mild antiseptic, that makes every bath "more than a pleasure." Because of this antiseptic, the rich Lifebuoy lather* at once purifies and stimulates your skin. The odor tells you why Lifebuoy is known as the "Health Soap."

Start today to make every bath help build health for your whole body. Take a cake of Lifebuoy home with you. It is on sale at grocers, department and drug stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

Lieutenant Matthew McGrath and his daughter at their home, 1173 Fulton Ave., New York City. Miss McGrath and her father are always together whenever his official duties and athletic engagements permit.

Ordinary Soap

Lifebuoy Health Soap

Work up the best possible lather in warm water with some ordinary soap. Then try the same experiment with Lifebuoy. You will find that Lifebuoy makes at least 50% more lather.

50% more lather than ordinary soap

Rich, generous lather—half again as much as with ordinary toilet soaps. That's the result of the Red Palm oils in Lifebuoy.

Try the simple test shown above. See for yourself that Lifebuoy forms at least 50% more lather.

Notice, too, the clean wholesome odor of the Lifebuoy antiseptic. The generous lather carries this cleansing antiseptic right down into the pores of the skin. That is why Lifebuoy keeps your whole skin glowing with health.

For the face and hands

More than any other parts of the body, the face and hands are exposed to dirt and grime. They especially require a soap that forms a heavy, creamy lather, which will loosen the dirt, and carry it away.

Try Lifebuoy the next time you wash your face and hands. Notice how much cleaner—how much cooler—the rich Lifebuoy lather makes them feel than ever before.

Watch your skin improve

FORGET TO CUT FOREIGN TIES

Efforts to Force U. S. Into League Will Be Discontinued if He Is Elected

Marion, O., Aug. 17.—A complete change in the foreign policy of the United States is promised by Senator
Wayne O. Harding, Republican nominee, if his party is successful in the November elections.

The candidate said that the present policy pursued by the Wilson administration, which has been to force America's joining the League of Nations, will be discontinued if we are elected at the polls.

Although Senator Harding stated in the formal speech of acceptance that he did not approve of the United States joining the league, his latest expressions are broader and indicate that if he is elected he will insist upon a policy of American integrity, with a careful avoidance of any foreign entanglements. This would not necessarily mean refusing about from the rest of the world, he said, or of refusing to aid in the case of a national disaster or suffering elsewhere.

"We are concerned with civilization, with the peace of the world and with our duty toward relieving the distress and suffering of humanity, but we can go to the relief of specific cases without involving ourselves," Senator Harding said.

The nominee refused to discuss the possibility of America becoming involved in the recently announced plans of the Bolsheviks to subjugate central Europe.

The announcement of an important change in the candidate's foreign policy was expected today when Republican Chairman Will Hays
announced that Senator Harding would be the Republican nominee for president.

Harding's position was expected
at the conference.

Penrose to Stump, But Insists Harding Quit "Porch"

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—Acquiescing
to the urgent policy of Republicans
to all parts of Pennsylvania, Senator Boies Penrose will take the stump in the Presidential campaign, he has learned here. The Senator, who will take part in a conference with Miller, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Republican National Committee for the Eastern division also will emphasize the importance of having Senator Harding or Senator Coolidge appear in certain sections of the State in which strenuous battles are expected.

Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, also has an appointment to appear with Senator Penrose on Thursday. At this meeting the latter is expected to make known his opinion in the "front porch" policy of Senator Harding and urge that the candidate set out before the people.

VEGETABLES ARE NEEDED AT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Yeastful contentments at the Children's Hospital on Longwood avenue

intendent today. An appeal was made for persons with private gardens to give what they can to the hospital for their surplus. Pruits and vegetables are an essential part of the young patients diet. Garden owners with an extra supply are requested to furnish transportation, if possible, but in the case to communicate with the hospital superintendent at No. 303

Henry R. Jewett of Concord, Esq.
Weymouth, in an open letter attacked James A. Bailey, chairman of the Metropolitan District Commission, for the selection of concert bands during the Summer season, and charged him with putting through the general rotten deal
for the sole purpose of discrediting himself in the general election. Mr.
Bailey issued a statement in reply in which he said that bands were selected in fair and open competition and that many of them were men up overseas men and other World War veterans. He said that disappointed band leaders and their friends would criticize and condemn, especially as one band had received $5,000 for its concerts in past years.

CHAPTER XIX—Continued.
THE grey tranquility of her eyes, original and clear, glowed less quiet of the girl called him.

"You don't love me, Steve, do you?"
"Not—as you wish me to."
"Can't you?"
"I don't know."
"Is there any chance?"
She looked out across the studio, considering, and her eyes grew grave and remote.

"I don't know, Jim. . . I think that something has been left out of me. . . Whatever it is, I don't know how to live—fall in love—as you wish me to. I don't know how to go about it. Perhaps life here is never thought about. It is never occupying my mind."

"Then," he burst out, "how in God's name did you ever come to marry?"

She looked up at him gravely.
"That is very different," she said. "Then you are in love with him?"

"I don't know," she said. "I don't know how to love."

ABOUT OUR GOOD FRIEND

Fisk

FISK

VARIATIONS—Fiske, Fish, Fisher, Fisherman, Fishman, Fisker, Pesonner.

RACIAL ORIGIN—Anglo-Saxon.

SOURCE—An occupation.

THE family name of Fisk, of Fiske, is another one of those surnames which illustrate the changes which take place in a language in the matter of twenty or twenty-five generations, for it has been no longer than that since our modern word

"fish" was so pronounced. Virtually all of these "fish" names

have arisen from the occupations

of those to whom they were first applied. It is possible, of course, but hardly likely, that there were a few rare instances in which the first use was as a nickname, denot-ing a fancied likeness to a fish.

All variations, however, may be taken for granted as having derived from either of two occasions, the selling of fish or the catching of fish. These occupations were tremendously important in the middle ages, for the English nobles subsisted largely on fish both as an economic and a professional meal. Medieval English was Catholic, and in the middle ages the fish of the sea

PLAN TO RETIRE LIBERTY BONDS

Treasury Considers Scheme That Utilizes Ten Billion Debt of Allies to U. S.

Washington, Aug. 17.—A proposal to utilize the $100,000,000 debt owed to the United States by the Allies to retire Liberty bonds at par is receiving the attention of officials of the treasury and of the Federal Reserve Board.

The plan is understood to have been originated by one of the New York National Banks. It suggests that a conference of representatives from the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy be summoned to discuss an agreement to be made whereby the allied debt will be changed into a series of bonds payable to the United States, and that the United States will then retire the bonds by issuing new Liberty bonds.

It is understood that the plan is being considered by the Federal Reserve Board, and that it is being discussed with the Allies.

REDUCED TEN BILLION.

The debt is now acknowledged only in the form of a promissory note. The plan is to issue new Liberty bonds in exchange for the old ones, and to retire the old ones by issuing new ones.

It is understood that the plan is being considered by the Federal Reserve Board, and that it is being discussed with the Allies.

WIPES OUT BANK LOANS.

These loans, it is claimed, would be practically wiped out by retirement of $100,000,000 of Liberty bonds. At the same time value of the remaining bonds would be greatly increased.

For some time the Treasury has been working on a plan to permit the allied governments to fund the interest on their debt by borrowing from the United States.

TELEPHONE RECORDS BROKEN.

At the end of June this year the Bell system had broken telephone records, having 13,662,227 answered and connected calls. This compares with 12,612,612 two months before and 11,728,742 a year before.

The 1919 year, the increase for the six months totaling 416,696 stations.
